LOST IN BOSTON

LOST IN BOSTON:
Downtown Crossing
Proposal Book
Spring 2013

This was a book designed to propose a timeline installation in Boston's Downtown Crossing. The timeline allows the viewer to experience, and value, this lost something, the old marketplace of Downtown Crossing, as well as educate them on the history.

CITY HARVEST PSA

Magazine Ad

Fall 2012

This was a magazine advertisement designed for the non-profit organization City Harvest, which “rescues” and delivers food to those in need in the NYC area. The ad’s focus is to bring attention to the overwhelming amount of people that go hungry in NYC everyday and get people to act.

THE BIG APPLE IS NOT AS WHOLE AS IT SEEMS.

Nearly 1.5 MILLION New Yorkers don’t have enough food to eat. That’s 18% of the population, a huge chunk of the whole waking up hungry each morning. City Harvest brings that number down by rescuing food that would otherwise go to waste and brings it to over 600 LOCATIONS city-wide, feeding more than 1 MILLION people yearly. ONE DOLLAR donated delivers 4 POUNDS of food to a person in need, making City Harvest a smart, simple solution to making New York City whole again.
